Application of the radioactive contaminated land regime: England

W Oatway (Version 1; published September 2021)

References

Defra (2011). Environmental Permitting Guidance. Radioactive Substances Regulation. For the Health and Safety Executive (HSE). It should be noted that such advice may incur a charge.

HSE (2018). A remediation plan is prepared by the appropriate person.

The EA verifies and validates remediation.

The land becomes a special site and the EA:

• becomes the enforcing authority
• identifies any appropriate persons
• decides whether it should serve a remediation notice on the land.

The EA decides whether it wishes to revise any remediation notice.

The EA verifies and validates remediation.

Remediation is undertaken.

Remediation is undertaken.

Remediation is undertaken.

The appropriate person obtains relevant health and safety permits.

The appropriate person obtains relevant health and safety permits.

The appropriate person obtains relevant health and safety permits.

The appropriate person obtains relevant waste storage and disposal permits.

The appropriate person obtains relevant waste storage and disposal permits.

The appropriate person obtains relevant waste storage and disposal permits.

NIGLQ (2012) Seek advice from HSE Seek advice from HSE Seek advice from HSE

HSE (2018) Seek advice from HSE Seek advice from HSE Seek advice from HSE

Defra (2010) Seek advice from EA Seek advice from EA Seek advice from EA

PHE (2020c) Seek advice from HSE Seek advice from HSE Seek advice from PHE

PHE (2020b) Seek advice from EA Seek advice from EA Seek advice from PHE

PHE (2020a) Seek advice from EA Seek advice from EA Seek advice from PHE

EA (2011) Seek advice from PHE Seek advice from PHE Seek advice from PHE

Defra (2013) Seek advice from EA Seek advice from EA Seek advice from PHE

Defra (2011) Seek advice from EA Seek advice from EA Seek advice from PHE

Appropriate person obtains relevant health and safety permits.

Appropriate person obtains relevant health and safety permits.

Appropriate person obtains relevant health and safety permits.

